Dear Rodolfo Seminario:

Congratulations on winning a 2010 CMAA Project Achievement Award! Your project submission, Renovation and Restoration of the Colon Theatre, was selected as the winner in the category of International Project/Program. With an excellent caliber of entries again this year, the judges had a difficult time – being selected is indeed an honor. CMAA will be proud to present this award to your designated award recipient(s) during the Industry Recognition Dinner on Tuesday, October 5, at CMAA's National Conference & Trade Show at the Manchester Grand Hyatt in San Diego, CA.

CMAA will not announce or publicize the award winners until that night. Please remember that you are also not permitted to publicize this award in press releases or any type of formal announcement until after the official presentation of the award at the National Conference.

I hope you will take this opportunity to invite representatives of the project owner as well as additional members of your firm who participated in the success of project to share in the celebration with you. CMAA wants this evening to be a special one for you and for your firm. To be sure all of the necessary arrangements are made, you will also receive information from Christina Link, the Conferences and Registration Senior Associate, to help you with these details.

Again, congratulations! I look forward to seeing you in San Diego!

Sincerely,
